

Housing Corporation Innovation and Good Practice

Housing Corporation IGP funding the national RSL centre of excellence to share good practice in preventing youth homelessness .

St Basils as the National RSL Centre of Excellence is to help housing associations prevent and tackle youth homelessness.

Housing Corporation Gold Award Winner St Basils is being funded through the Corporation's Innovation and Good Practice Grant(IGP) to support local agencies around the country to address the accommodation and wider needs of young people who are homeless or at risk of homelessness.

St Basils offers:

- Learning Exchanges using a mix of presentation, discussion and visits to specific projects of interest to provide the opportunity to focus on challenges and practice in a more focused way;
- Support and advice to the specialist advisers for the housing association sector in areas where youth homelessness presents a number of challenges;
- To disseminate key messages and provide access to speakers for key events regionally and nationally to impact on practice in preventing and tackling homelessness.

First contact matthew.green@stbasils.org.uk

Housing associations will be able to access this service via Communities and Local Government's National Youth Homelessness Scheme's website at www.communities.gov.uk/youthhomelessness/activities.

Our web site is designed to enable you see some of the work that we do, and to find out how you can help us to prevent homelessness.

Our head office is based in Birmingham and we also provide accommodation and services in Redditch and Solihull Boroughs. We are also working with other local authorities in the West Midlands region.

St Basils, Heath Mill Lane, Deritend, Birmingham B9 4AX .Tel 0121-772-2483. More Contact Details.

Related Links

National RSL Centre of Excellence National RSL Centre of Excellence to share good practice on youth homelessness across the UK with all housing associations and agencies working with young people to prevent homelessness in the first place